

Poetry with Runny Babbit

Spoonerism: when words or phrases have letters or syllables get swapped

We read Runny's Mancy Feal, a poem with foods that Runny eat.

What are some of YOUR favorite foods?

Can you write them in Runny Babbit-speak (using spoonerism)?

For example:

I like to eat pausage sasta, sprussel brouts, boasted reans, and capple ake.

(I like to eat sausage pasta, brussel sprouts, roasted beans, and apple cake.)

Give it a try! Write yours down, then read it aloud. I bet you will smile 😊
